2 the context clearly indicates otherwise:

3 (a) "Abandonment" means the relinquishment of property or a cessation of the use of the 6 (b) "Aggrieved" or "aggrieved person" means a person who:

7 (1) Is denied by the planning commission, board of subdivision and land development 8 appeals, or the board of zoning appeals, in whole or in part, the relief sought in any application or 9 appeal; or

10 (2) Has demonstrated that he or she will suffer a peculiar injury, prejudice or inconvenience 11 beyond that which other residents of the county or municipality may suffer.

12 (c) "Comprehensive plan" means a plan for physical development, including land use, 14 affect growth and development in the governing body's jurisdiction.

15 (d) "Conditional use" means a use which because of special requirements or 16 characteristics may be permitted in a particular zoning district only after review by the board of 17 zoning appeals and upon issuance of a conditional use permit, and subject to the limitations and 18 conditions specified in the zoning ordinance.

19 (e) "Contiguous" means lots, parcels, municipal boundaries or county boundaries that are 20 next to, abutting and having a boundary, or portion thereof, that is coterminous. Streets, highways,

22 be used to determine lots, parcels, municipal boundaries or county boundaries as contiguous.

23 (f) "Essential utilities and equipment" means underground or overhead electrical, gas, 24 communications not regulated by the federal communications commission, water and sewage

37 the adoption of a zoning map or ordinances by the county or municipality. If the use is 38 nonconforming to local ordinance and lawfully existed prior to the adoption of the ordinance, the 39 use may continue to exist as a nonconforming use until abandoned for a period of one year:

40 Provided, That in the case of natural resources, the absence of natural resources extraction or 41 harvesting is not abandonment of the use.

42 (h) "Exterior architectural features" means the architectural character and general 43 composition of the exterior of a structure, including, but not limited to, the kind, color and texture 44 of the building material, and the type, design and character of all windows, doors, massing and

63 accordance with its subdivision and land development ordinance, for the construction, erection,

72 manufactured home construction and safety standards effective June 15, 1976.

92 thereof owned or leased by a governing body or unit of government.

93 (aa) "Sprawl" means poorly planned or uncontrolled growth, usually of a low-density

8 body in the subdivision and land development ordinance.

9 (c) If a subdivision or land development plan and plat cannot be approved through the 10 minor subdivision or land development process, then an applicant must use the major subdivision 11 or land development approval process.

12 (d) If a governing body has adopted detailed standards for final plats as part of a 13 subdivision and land development ordinance, the planning commission may delegate to its staff 14 the authority to approve preliminary or provisional land development plan or subdivision plat that 15 is consistent with the adopted standards for final plats and the requirements of the adopted 16 subdivision and land development ordinance.

17 (e) The planning commission may delegate to its staff the authority to determine 18 completeness, phasing, changes, and technical review for major subdivisions or land 19 development applications, if a governing body has adopted detailed process provisions, 20 procedures, or checklists for major subdivisions or land development applications: Provided, That 21 a staff review does not take longer than would a planning commission review. Any applicant may 24 request.

4 in its governing body's subdivision and land development ordinance. The planning commission 5 may delegate this review to planning commission staff.

6 (b) If a governing body's subdivision and land development ordinance does not specify 7 what may be included in a land development plan and plat, then the planning commission must

8 determine that an application is complete if the application meets the requirements set forth in 9 subsection (b), section seven of this article.

10 (c) At a meeting where the application is determined to be complete, the planning 11 commission must set a date, time and place for a public hearing and a meeting to follow the public

13 if the planning commission's next regularly scheduled meeting that would meet public notice
14 requirements is scheduled within 60 days of receipt of the application, it may hold the public 15 hearing at its next regularly scheduled meeting. The planning commission shall notify the 16 applicant of the public hearing and meeting in writing unless notice is waived in writing by the 17 applicant. The planning commission must publish a public notice of the public hearing and 18 meeting in a local newspaper of general circulation in the area at least 21 days prior to the public 19 hearing.

20 (d) At a meeting at the conclusion of the public hearing or a meeting held within fourteen 21 days after the public hearing, the planning commission shall vote to approve, deny or hold the 22 application.

23 (e) The application may be held for additional information necessary to make a 24 determination. An application may be held for up to forty-five days.

34 commission must specify those conditions.

35 (i) If the planning commission denies the application, then the planning commission shall 36 notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the denial. The applicant may request, one time,
