WEST VIRGINIA CODE: §16-2D-20

§16-2D-20. Statute of limitations.

The authority has a period of three years to correct violations of the provisions of this article. The three-year period begins from the date the authority knows or should have known of the violation. Each new act of a continuing violation shall provide a basis for restarting the calculation of the limitations period.

WV Legislature