WEST VIRGINIA CODE: §19-10B-3

§19-10B-3. License required; fee.

It shall be unlawful for any person except a livestock producer to engage in the business of buying, receiving or assembling livestock for resale, or selling livestock in this state without being licensed as a livestock dealer by the commissioner. All applications for a livestock dealer's license or renewal of such license shall be made on forms provided by the commissioner and shall be filed on or before June thirtieth of each year with the commissioner. A fee of $30 shall be remitted with each such application. Any license not renewed by July 1, of any year shall expire.
