

WEST VIRGINIA CODE: §22-6-27

§22-6-27. Cause of action for damages caused by explosions.

Any person suffering personal injury or property damage due to any explosion caused by any permittee, shall have a cause of action against such permittee for three years after the explosion regardless of when the explosion occurred.