

WEST VIRGINIA CODE: §60-6-5

§60-6-5. Applicability of chapter to certain uses by physicians, druggists and others.

The provisions of this chapter shall not prevent:

- (1) A physician from prescribing the use of alcoholic liquors when necessary for a bona fide patient;
- (2) A druggist from selling, upon a prescription properly issued by a physician, alcoholic liquors for medicinal purposes;
- (3) A physician, dentist, or veterinarian, in the legitimate practice of his profession, from using and administering alcoholic liquors;
- (4) Hospitals, sanitariums, or that division of any institution which is regularly conducted as a hospital, dispensary or infirmary, from using or administering alcoholic liquors to bona fide patients. Institutions and the divisions thereof provided in this section may carry a stock of alcoholic liquors sufficient for this purpose;
- (5) Religious organizations from using wine for sacramental purposes.
