fraudulent as to a creditor, whether the creditor's claim obligation:

(1) With actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud any creditor of the debtor; or

(2) Without receiving a reasonably equivalent value in §40-1A-5. Transfers fraudulent as to present creditors.

(a) A transfer made or obligation incurred by a debtor is fraudulent as to a creditor whose claim arose before the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred if the debtor made the transfer or incurred the obligation without receiving a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer or obligation and the debtor was insolvent at that time or the debtor became insolvent as a result of the transfer or obligation.

(b) A transfer made by a debtor is fraudulent as to a creditor whose claim arose before the transfer was made if the transfer was made to an insider for an antecedent debt, the debtor was insolvent at that time and the insider had reasonable cause to believe that the debtor was insolvent.

§40-1A-6. When transfer is made or obligation is incurred.

For the purposes of this article:
(a) A transfer is made:
(1) With respect to an asset that is real property other than a fixture, but including the interest of a seller or purchaser under a contract for the sale of the asset, when the transfer is so far perfected that a good-faith purchaser of the asset from the debtor against whom applicable law permits the transfer to be perfected cannot acquire an interest in the asset that is superior to the interest of the transferee; and

(2) With respect to an asset that is not real property or that is a fixture, when the transfer is so far perfected that a creditor on a simple contract cannot acquire a judicial lien otherwise than under this article that is superior to the interest of the transferee;

(b) If applicable law permits the transfer to be perfected as provided in subdivision (a) and the transfer is not so perfected before the commencement of an action for relief under this article, the transfer is considered made immediately before the commencement of the action;

(c) If applicable law does not permit the transfer to be made when it becomes effective between the debtor and the transferee; and

(d) A transfer is not made until the debtor has acquired rights in the asset transferred and an obligation is incurred. If the obligation is oral, a transfer is made when the obligation becomes effective. If the obligation is evidenced by a writing, the obligation becomes effective when the writing is delivered to or for the benefit of the obligee.

(a) In an action for relief against a transfer or obligation under this article, a creditor, subject to the limitations in section eight of this article, may obtain:

(1) Avoidance of the transfer or obligation to the extent necessary to satisfy the creditor's claim;

(2) An attachment or other provisional remedy against the asset transferred or other property of the transferee;

(3) Subject to applicable principles of equity and in accordance with applicable rules of civil procedure:

(i) An injunction against further disposition by the debtor or a transferee, or both, of the asset transferred or of other property;

(ii) Appointment of a receiver to take charge of the asset transferred or of other property of the transferee; or

(iii) Any other relief the circumstances may require.

(b) If a creditor has obtained a judgment on a claim against the debtor, the creditor, if the court so orders, may levy execution on the asset transferred or its proceeds.

§40-1A-8. Defenses, liability and protection of transferee.

1 (a) A transfer or obligation is not voidable under subdivision (1), subsection (a), section four of this article, against a person who took in good faith and for a reasonably equivalent value or against any subsequent transferee or obligee.

2 (b) Except as otherwise provided in this section, to the extent a transfer is voidable in an action by a creditor under subdivision (1), subsection (a), section seven of this article, the creditor may recover judgment for the value of the asset transferred, as adjusted under subsection (c) of this section, or the amount necessary to satisfy the creditor's claim, whichever is less. The judgment may be entered against:

3 (1) The first transferee of the asset or the person for whose benefit the transfer was made; or

4 (2) Any subsequent transferee other than a good faith transferee who took for value or from any subsequent transferee.

5 (c) If the judgment under subsection (b) of this section is based upon the value of the asset transferred, the judgment must be for an amount equal to the value of the asset at the time of the transfer, subject to adjustment as the equities may require.

6 (d) Notwithstanding voidability of a transfer or an obligation under this article, a good-faith transferee or obligee is entitled, to the extent of the value given the debtor for the transfer or obligation, to:

7 (1) A lien on or a right to retain any interest in the asset transferred;

8 (2) Enforcement of any obligation incurred; or

9 (3) A reduction in the amount of the liability on the judgment.

10 (e) A transfer is not voidable under subdivision (2), subsection (a), section four or section five, all of this article, if the transfer results from:

11 (1) Termination of a lease upon default by the debtor when the termination is pursuant to the lease and applicable law; or Enforcement of a security interest in compliance with article nine of the uniform commercial code.

(f) A transfer is not voidable under subsection (b), section five of this article:

(1) To the extent the insider gave new value to or for the benefit of the debtor after the transfer was made unless the new value was secured by a valid lien;

(2) If made in the ordinary course of business or financial affairs of the debtor and the insider; or

(3) If made pursuant to a good-faith effort to rehabilitate the debtor and the transfer secured present value given for that purpose as well as an antecedent debt of the debtor.

A cause of action with respect to a fraudulent transfer or obligation under this article is extinguished unless action is brought:

(a) Under subdivision (1), subsection (a), section four of this article, within four years after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred or, if later, within one year after the transfer or obligation was or could reasonably have been discovered by the claimant;

(b) Under subdivision (2), subsection (a), section four or subsection (a), section five of this article, within four years after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred;

or

(c) Under subsection (b), section five of this article, within one year after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred.

§40-1-10. Supplementary provisions.

Unless displaced by the provisions of this article, the principles of law and equity, including the law merchant and the law relating to principal and agent, estoppel, laches, fraud, misrepresentation, duress, coercion, mistake, insolvency or other validating or invalidating cause, supplement its provisions.

§40-1A-11. Uniformity of application and construction.

This article shall be applied and construed to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to the subject of this article among states enacting it.

§40-1A-12. Short title.

This article may be cited as the "Uniform Fraudulent Transfers Act."
